

the sanctuary

The concept of sanctuary is one that easily translates into our bedroom environment: a place of calm and safety a refuge within our four walls. Creating a sanctuary within our home is well within the reach of most of us; it can involve anything from surrounding ourselves with the things that make us feel more comfortable to making changes to the spaces that create a more livable environment.

No matter who you are, a good mattress is the key to a sound sleep. When the British Royal Family was looking for the perfect sleep experience, they turned to Hypnos mattresses. In fact, Hypnos has been a Royal Warrant holder to the British Royal Family for nearly 40 years; first supplying bespoke mattresses to the late Queen Mother, and now to Queen Elizabeth herself. And now word has spread to North America: Oprah Winfrey and Sarah Jessica Parker are now Hypnos converts.

Beauty, luxury and relaxation. Three words that describe everything that a bedroom sanctuary should offer.

Being made of all natural fibers, makes Hypnos the perfect bed for people with allergies. Additionally Hypnos having the ability to wick away moisture thanks to vents in the sides of the mattresses. This greatly help to increase the life of the mattress as on average people will lose about one cup of moisture per night. The thick damask covers on Hypnos also more resistant to dust mites and their leavings which tend to thrive in other mattresses.

Elegantly covered in the finest gold and silver the belgain damask, the deep luxurious mattress encloses the very best of trusted traditional fillings including pure silk and cashmere. It is the very zenith of craftsmanship, designed and handmade to perfection.
